3.0 GUIDANCE AND PROCEDURES

3.1 General Information

3.1.1 A designated medical examiner takes on a heavy responsibility of medically certifying the flight crew and Air Traffic Controllers. The consequences of negligent or wrongful certification, which would permit an unqualified person to take the controls of an aircraft or control air traffic, can be serious for safety of air transport, the public and the examiner. If the examination is cursory and the examiner fails to find a disqualifying defect that should have been discovered in the course of a thorough and careful examination, a safety hazard may be created.

3.1.2 The prescribed medical certification forms and the certificates for the issuance of a medical certificate may be obtained from the Authority's Personnel Licensing (PEL) Office.

3.2 Aviation Medical Examiners

Designated Medical Examiners are delegated by the Authority to examine for medical fitness of applicants for the issue, renewal or re-issue of a medical certificate.

An AME is not permitted to conduct examinations at a temporary address and is not permitted to name an alternate Examiner to act on his behalf. During an AME's absence from the permanent office, applicants for flight and cabin crew member and Air Traffic Controller medical certification must be referred to another AME in the area.

3.4 Issue of a Medical Certificate

A medical certificate is issued to any person who meets the medical requirements prescribed in Regulations 144 to 185 of the Civil Aviation (Personnel Licensing) Regulations based on the medical examination and evaluation of the applicant's history and condition.

The medical examination for renewal of a licence, when the holder is operating in an area distant from the Authority designated medical examiner facilities, may be deferred by the Authority under Regulation 13 of the Civil Aviation (Personnel Licensing) Regulations; but the applicant is required to pass a medical examination with the Authority approved medical examiner of the state of operation.
